addicted to talent

Nashville's search for talented professionals persists as career opportunities continue to grow.

The 10-county Nashville region is home to more than 1.8 million people and 40,000 businesses, with the city attracting more diverse new business from across the country than any city its size over the past 20 years. The technology sector is the leading edge of that growth – with technology job opportunities in the thousands at any given point in time and a huge array of opportunities in fields from music and entertainment, to healthcare, to manufacturing.

The region is adding about 10,000 – 20,000 new jobs every year, in all sectors.

There are, on average, 800-1,000 open technology positions in the Nashville area.

A booming local economy means opportunities in a range of fields for the other job seekers in your family.

Your money goes further in Nashville than in most cities in America and throughout the world.

3 major facts working in your favor when it comes to how far your dollar goes:

- 1 No personal income tax on earnings in Tennessee.
This saves the average relocating family between 3% and 10% of your income – or a savings of $3,000 and $10,000 more for every $100,000 you earn.
- 2 Cost of living is 10% below the U.S. average – 89% on a 100% scale.
- 3 Per capita income in Nashville is 14% higher than the U.S. average.

here, there, and everywhere

Thanks to Nashville's central location, flight offerings and interstate system, you can get there (anywhere!) from here.

One of the key reasons Nashville has become such a hotbed of job growth in America is a simple case of geography.

- Within a 650-mile radius of 50% of the U.S. population
- Within a one- or two-hour flight time of 65% of the U.S. population
- Strong and affordable air service with 350 flights per day
- Three major interstates intersect here: I-40, I-24 and I-65

"Nashville offers a great quality of life with lower relative business cost and reasonable cost of living for our teammates. These factors combined with Nashville's central geographic location made it the best choice for Bridgestone."

The Bridgestone Americas Trust Fund annually supports more than 300 nonprofit organizations in the United States, particularly in those markets we call home.

UNITED WAY OF METROPOLITAN NASHVILLE

Bridgestone's investment in United Way illustrates the company's commitment to supporting education in the community where we work and live. Each year the company raises hundreds of thousands of dollars, and teammates contribute hundreds of hours.

Music Makes Us®

In 2014, in conjunction with the announcement of the new headquarters in downtown Nashville, Bridgestone announced its five-year support of the Music Makes Us® program, an initiative of Metropolitan Nashville Public Schools focused on music education programs for local students. The program aims to increase the quality, equity and accessibility of K-12 music in parallel with the next generation of work with both music teachers and community partners.

Tires4ward

Bridgestone has a long-standing commitment to sustainability that is reflected in our environmental mission "to help ensure a healthy environment for current and future generations."

Bridgestone established the One Team, One Planet program to advance our environmental mission and focus our efforts. A key component of One Team, One Planet is the Tires4ward program, founded on a long-term vision that all tires be put to beneficial use after they are removed from vehicles. Bridgestone's 2,200+ company-owned retail stores recycle 100 percent of the spent tires from customer vehicles. Another important aspect of Tires4Ward is the recycling of tires through organized clean-up events of public lands, rivers, streams and lakes across the country.

Maplewood High School Automotive Training Center

In 2014, Bridgestone announced the creation of the Maplewood High School Automotive Training Center in cooperation with Firestone Complete Auto Care. The Automotive Training Center gives students hands-on technical and automotive experience and helps them learn retail business practices. It represents a contribution from Bridgestone Americas, which includes retrofitting the shop and customer waiting area, equipment and materials, assistance with making the curriculum ASE (Automotive Service Excellence)-certified, and mentoring of students.

Middle Tennessee's 10-county region includes diverse industries, thriving commerce and unique residential options.

Nashville is the capital of Tennessee and a vital transportation, business and tourism center for North America. The Nashville Economic Market, in the state's center, comprises 10 counties for a total population just over one and a half million, making it the largest metropolitan area in the state. When it comes to satisfying and exceeding business needs and expectations, the Nashville region is committed to building strong relationships among all area communities and counties.

Nashville-Davidson County has a consolidated city-county government based on a 1963 plan that is a national model. Davidson County is highly urbanized with extensive residential areas, a vibrant downtown, and advanced infrastructure. Growth continues due to transportation advantages, labor supply, commercial development opportunity and 10 colleges and universities including Belmont, Fisk, Lipscomb, Tennessee State, Trevecca Nazarene and Vanderbilt University. The city is a center for the health care, music, publishing, banking and transportation industries including Bridgestone, Hospital Corporation of America, Lifeway and Universal Music Group.

Cheatham County is home to A.O. Smith manufacturing and many other expanding businesses in a convenient setting. With three interstate exits on Interstate 24, navigable waterways and ports, and railway access, the county offers a prime location for business customers. The county seat is Ashland City.

Dickson County is a regional hub for shopping, medical services, education and jobs. The location and quality work force in Dickson County makes the area a natural place for businesses of any size to thrive. Charlotte is the county seat and Dickson is the largest city.

Maury County, home to a major GM facility in Spring Hill, continues to attract new business to communities blending rural amenities and urban accessibility. Columbia, the county seat, is a regional center for shopping, business services, education, and health care.

Montgomery County supports a diverse economy and is the fifth largest county in Tennessee. Fort Campbell military base for the 101st Airborne Division and Austin Peay State University are major elements of Clarksville. Local industry includes Bridgestone Metalpha, Quebecor, Hemlock Semiconductor and Trane Corporation.

Robertson County has a growing and diverse manufacturing sector and a strong agricultural base. The county has a diverse manufacturing base including Electrolux and a strong distribution industry including Macy's distribution center. Springfield is the county seat.

Rutherford County is one of the nation's fastest growing counties and is home to the largest undergraduate enrollment in the state at Middle Tennessee State University. Home of operations for Nissan, Ingram Book Group, Amazon, General Mills, Whirlpool, Bridgestone-Firestone, State Farm and Verizon Wireless. Murfreesboro is the county seat.

Sumner County is anchored by large manufacturing and distribution operations, an outstanding mix of professional service companies and a rapidly expanding retail sector. The county is home to a Gap, Inc. distribution center and Volunteer State Community College. Gallatin is the county seat.

Williamson County is consistently ranked one of the nation's fastest growing counties with upscale suburbs, and large retail and corporate office parks. The county is home to 40 corporate headquarters including Nissan North America, Tractor Supply Company, Mars Petcare and Community Health Systems, Inc. Franklin is the county seat.

Wilson County continues to grow rapidly in residential, commercial and industrial development. Dell Computer manufacturing and major retail expansions prompt growth in Mt. Juliet. Lebanon is the county seat and the first of five middle Tennessee cities to have direct commuter rail access to downtown Nashville.
